HARRISON.

Memorial Day was observed in Harrison by planting flags and placing flowers on the graves of the soldiers in the various cemeteries. This service was performed under the auspices of Harry Post G. A. R. of Norway, the officers of which furnished the ex-soldiers of Harrison with flags to carry out to the graves of the occasion in a fitting manner. To that organization the thanks of all friends of our deceased comrades are due for this token of liberal regard. Capt. Granville Fenwick had general supervision of the services in town, and had personal direction at the old F. B. church cemetery and Bolster's Mills. Able assistance was rendered in other cemeteries by Deacons A. K. Whitney, Thompson, John E. Woodsum, and others. At the village a public meeting was held in the Cong. Church after decoration service, at which prayer was offered by Deacons A. K. Whitney, Thompson, John E. Woodsum, and others. Six graves were decorated in the village cemetery. At old F. B. cemetery six graves were decorated with flags and floral offerings. A number of persons assembled to participate. Misses Isa Cummings and Nellie Cummings. At appropriate social sessions. At Bolster's Mills the teacher, Miss Emma Proctor, and her pupils were found assembled at the school house, and marched in procession to the cemetery, where eight graves were decorated with flags and beautiful bouquets. At the entrance to the cemetery, a beautiful, large silk banner was floating, crowned by a splendid floral wreath. This was loaned by Miss E. Fernald and erected by her order. The close of the ceremony, the company assembled in the space near the gate and Misses Gorman Dorman, Virgie Weston, Mabel Dorman and Gertrude Haskell read beautiful memorial poems, after which all joined in singing "America" with a melodious accompaniment, played by Miss Virgie Weston. The following are the names of the deceased soldiers whose graves were decorated in this town:

Harrison Village.—War of 1812, James Bailey Dea Daves. 1861, Lieut. Enoch Edgerly, Hollis C. Miley, Morrill Hobbs, Roswell Libby.

Old F. B. Churchyard.—1776, Nicholas Bray. 1812, Edward Bray, Charles Walker, Jr., Leander Harmon, Spoford Ingalls. 1861, Edward Gilkey.

Bolster's Mills.—1776, Jumper, Capt. John Brackett. 1812, Enoch Brackett, John Small. 1861, James G. Warren, Wesley Haskell, Silas Stiles, Stephen Stiles.

Burnham Hill.—1861, Charles Bucknell, Washburn Bucknell.

Woodman Family Cemetery.—1861, Silas Woodman.

South Harrison.—1812, Col. Amos Thomas.

Near Senter School House.—William Carler.

Two graves of Revolutionary soldiers and two or three of the War of 1812 were inadvertently omitted for want of reasonable notice and accurate information.

C. R. C. Ricker is having a pleasure car, with engine and boiler, from the shop of Wilkinson & Co., Boston. Mr. Ricker will adjust the engine after its arrival here. It is to go into Long Lake and is for select pleasure excursions over all the Sebago waters.

A new street is about to be laid out in the village over land purchased of Mrs. Mary Hamlin by Benven Hobbs. This will open up a number of new and fine building lots. Mr. Hobbs intends to improve one for building a house, and one or two other lots are engaged for building on the coming season it is reported.

Mr. William H. Briggs, of the late firm of Briggs Bros., Confectioners, Portland, has bought the farm known as the Dea. Walker place, for several years past the residence of Granville Fernald, and is repairing and repainting to some extent. Mr. B.'s family will remove from Portland the first of July and occupy their new home. Mr. Fernald's family will not remove from town.

The ceiling in the vestibule of Hon. Philander Tolman's mansion fell the other day and the room will have to be re-plastered. Some other rooms will also need repairing. Poor hair in the mortar is supposed to be the cause of the defective plastering. These rooms were handsomely frescoed by J. Mead & Son a few years ago.

Nearly 100 elm, maple and other ornamental trees were planted in the village this spring and are looking well.

A party of North Bridge students excused on foot to Brunswick last week to attend "commencement," returning in the same manner. Among them was Fairfield Whitney, son of E. E. Whitney.

To Mrs. M. J. Halsey and Miss Annie Halsey, teachers of the village school, Miss Lucy Dorman of the Cummings district and Miss Emma Proctor, Bolster's Mills, with the scholars of each district, sang a song, and then came from the friends of deceased soldiers for the interest they each and all manifested, and for important services in preparing abundance of beautiful bouquets and wreaths for decoration services on Memorial Day.

NORTH NEWBY.

Mrs. Maria Sargent, an old lady 84 years old, fell down through (where there had been a chimney taken down) from the attic floor to the floor below, a distance of 18 feet, breaking one leg and badly bruised and injured her internally. Owing to her great age she is not expected to recover.

Grass mowers looked better for this season of the year. Crops of all kinds are looking finely with the prospect of a good harvest.

ALBANY.

Miss Roxie Cummings goes this week to Old Orchard to spend a few weeks. She thinks of taking her sister Anna with her, who is quite out of health.

Mr. Woodbury, principal of the Eastern Normal School, and his family, are visiting friends in Albany.

Mr. George Clark, who works in Fairbanks' soda factory at St. Johnsbury, Vt., is at home for a little season of rest.

Mr. Austin Grover is in very poor health.

Matrimonial matters are quite lively. Our roads are badly washed by the heavy showers this week.

Planting and sheep shearing are at a stand still.

Greenwood.

Millard Edmund cut his foot quite badly last Saturday, while at work cutting fence stuff. He was nearly half a mile away from home and no one with him and he had a hard time to reach home. He corded his leg before leaving the woods. You could track him as well as you could a butchered hog. He painted as soon as he got into the house. Fortunately for him a physician was passing at the time and called in and dressed the wound. It is now doing nicely.

We learn that James Crockett of Norway has put into E. O. K. Waterhouse's pasture in this town, a nice Dutch bull. Greenwood folks will do well to patronize him, as he is worth going a long way to see.

I see by your paper that Wm. C. Foster of Norway, lately a gathering at his house, consisting of his Sabbath school class. I dare say they had a nice treat.

Mrs. Amelia Richardson, a lady 88 years old, is quite smart for one of her age. She walked from her home to the town farm and back one last week, carrying a basket full of goods.

Frank Martin who has been at work for Ed. Benson at North Paris, is obliged to return home on account of ill health.

Ed. Benson is to preach here once a month this season.

South Waterford.

Mrs. J. C. Pike, accompanied by Mrs. Alvin Pike of Sweden, was starting with their team to visit her daughter at No. 2, Bridgeport, this morning (Tuesday) a little before 9 o'clock, when, as soon as they were fairly started, the horse began to rear and evidently frightened at something, and as they were at the top of a long hill he soon became unmanageable and having run forty or fifty rods threw both ladies out into the ditch. The fall was witnessed by a near neighbor, Mr. Jonathan Howe, and the alarm given. Mrs. Howe and the hired man, Mr. York, were soon at the place of disaster to witness a sad sight. Both women were apparently dead, but with wonderful courage Mrs. H. obtained water from the ditch, filled by yesterday's shower, and washed the blood from Mrs. J. C. Pike's face and soon had her upon her feet. Presently Mr. York came with another team and conveyed them both back to their home, and at once went for Dr. Wilson of this town. Fortunately Dr. Bray of Bridgeport came along and was called in and took charge and dressed the wounds, upon the head of Mrs. J. C. Pike sewing up a large skin gash, and found no bones were broken in either, but Mrs. Alvin Pike was found to be badly injured in the chest so as to be unable to lie down. Mrs. J. C. is now in bed and is doing better.

and both he and Dr. Bray were busy for hours doing all in their power to relieve the sufferers. Dr. Bray's care is grave, and says he considers the chances more than even against both of the ladies. Mrs. J. C. is a lady between 50 and 60 years of age, and quite heavy, while the other is considerably younger and lighter. They are among the best and most respected citizens of their respective towns. Great anxiety is felt on the part of all for them. Dr. Bray says that the older lady's case will be very critical if she lives for the next 48 hours. We learn that Mr. Alvin Pike will remove his wife to her home to-day.

Cobb & Hapgood have sold their grist mill to Mr. Daniel Lebroke of this town. The consideration is not made known to the public as yet. Mr. L. will take possession soon.

NORTH RUMFORD.

The frequent showers and warm weather are helping the crops along wonderfully, and we see no reason why they should not have an abundant hay crop.

Chas. Kimball, senior, has raised his house one story, and when finished will be as pretty and pleasant as any house on the Point.

The mosquito is here among us, and he brought along his friend the beetle. They are flying about at night, and their flying against the windows sounds like hail.

The four horse stage coach from Bryant's Pond to Andover goes up every evening loaded with fishermen bound for the lakes.

The potato beetles have come and are at work on the early potatoes. Nothing better for them than Paris green. The cuckoo is singing more rain.

We have noticed a number of tent caterpillars this year. We trust they are not planning to make another raid on us.

Help is scarce and wages high. Common farm help get from $20 to $25 per month.

G. S. Silver is quite ill with lung trouble.

Boys don't try and run your bicycle through the sand, because it won't go but you will be able to.

The farmers are planting a few Lima beans for Mr. Webb's cannery factory. He pays $2 per bushel for the shelled beans and 2 cents per can for sweet corn.

One of the school girls the other day found a clover root with several four, five and six leaf clover upon it.

Try the Advertiser three months, and if you like all the home and country news and other instructive and interesting reading, you won't stop it.

NORWAY LAKE.

A bay horse, harness and rubber coat was stolen from Benj. Tucker's stable on Tuesday night.

G. W. Partridge with a small force of help is doing some extra good jobs on the highway. He is a highway surveyor, Mr. Editor, of which it is no "unusual sight" to see him taking the hardest place among his men, and instead of waving drops of sweat standing on his brow, it is pouring out all over him.

James Smith has been shingling his shoe shop and stable at the Lake.

Now the great bullfrogs put in their choruses.

Sweden.

A part of our schools are now in session, while others have been postponed on account of the prevalence of the measles. The school in district No. 1, is taught by Miss Lucella Whitehouse, that in No. 2 by Miss Minnie French of Lewiston, and Miss Nellie Evans is engaged to teach in No. 3, Miss Nellie Morrison of Bridgeport in district No. 4, Miss Mary E. Hilton of Bridgeport in No. 6, and Miss Nellie M. Pike in the Centre district. Miss Julia M. Whitehouse is to teach in the Pike district in Fryeburg and Miss Annie Perry in the Fox district in Lovell.

Mr. Joseph Adams has sold his place at the Noveur Four Corners to Charles W. Bennett for $650, and bought the Flood farm on the North Highlands in Fryeburg, for $1150. Mr. Adams moved his goods and family to his new home last week.

Mr. Albin Noveur has sold his interest by heirship to his late father's home farm, situated at the Noveur Four Corners, to his brother-in-law, Charles W. Bennett.

The powerful shower Thursday afternoon, the 7th inst. did considerable damage in J. O. Moulton's corn patch, carrying much of the finest soil and dressing into the brook and pasture.

Mrs. Charles B. Hamlin, we are happy in being able to state, is thought to be improving, and her friends have a hope that she may perfectly recover her health.

Mr. John Bennett is in a pitiful condition. He is in much pain, and is forced by morphia while sitting in his chair.

SOUTH PARIS.

Last Sunday evening the Sabbath School children of the Congregational Society gave their regular monthly concert. It was nicely arranged and fluently executed by both pupils and teachers.

The surveyor is spending the high-water season at the city. The scholars are well pleased and the Supervisor speaks very highly of her as a teacher and governor.

Little Bertha Emmons, the 6 years old daughter of Israel Emmons, is an uncommonly smart scholar for her age.

Dennis Herriek was badly hurt while plowing by the oxen getting frightened and running over him.

South Waterford.

Porter.

Last week we had some quite hot weather. Tuesday the 6th inst., the thermometer was up to 90 in the shade. The hay crop was never more promising, and vegetation in general is in a fine growing condition.

We see by the Advertiser of last week that Bro. Sanborn and wife were going to N. H. We hope they will be a pleasant one in all respects, and that the Editor will return to his editorial chair fresh and vigorous, brimful of news. We, too, are breathing the pure, bracing mountain air of the old "Granite State," which is truly refreshing. During our absence of a few years there has been many changes, yet the good people have not forgotten their true hospitality.

We were very sorry to find our friend, W. P. Parsons of Conway, in very poor health. He has a delightful situation and is surrounded by many home comforts. Poor health seems to be his only drawback. We heartily wish some good angel with healing on its wing, would hover around him and that he might be fully restored to his usual strength.

Arriving at Conway Center we were very kindly entertained by Morton Bros. and their families. They have quite a large shop in connection with their farm, where they have all the carriage repairing, etc., that they can attend to when not engaged on their farm.

Naples.

Henry Lamb met with a severe accident while at work in his stove mill last Saturday. A stove caught on the back side of the saw and was thrown with great violence, striking him on the forehead. He was stunned by the blow, but soon recovered consciousness. Physicians were called and the wound dressed. It was found on examination that besides a large scalp wound the outer crust of the skull was broken and a small piece gone. Though severe it is hoped the wound is not dangerous.

Locke's Mills.

At an adjourned meeting of the Parish Society held at the school house June 11th, the committee appointed to solicit subscriptions to erect a meeting house at this village, reported subscriptions amounting to $400.00. The society chose E. L. Tebbets, E. E. Rand and I. C. Jordan as a building committee, with instructions to proceed to erect said building. Contributions from any one from the widow's mite upward will be thankfully received.

Bessie Noble picked the first ripe strawberry last week.

Currier's Hall was filled to its utmost seating capacity last Sunday, to hear Rev. G. B. Hannaford preach.

Mr. Editor.—"T." the correspondent for the Lewiston Journal notice the error in item locating Harry Post G. A. R. at South Paris, sent to the Advertiser but it has not been inserted. While "T." thinks that such an organization as Harry Post G. A. R. is an honor to any village yet he would not appropriate that honor to his own village.

Decoration Day.

What meant these gun-bells unceasing every with their rattled colors and how. They are our nation's heroes—our soldiers and some are maimed and wounded, and some are dead. When our country was aroused by the sounds of Civil War.

And the echoes of Fort Sumter's guns were heard both near and far. 'Twas then that we vowed to-day, with steady loyalty, to uphold the Nation's honor, to preserve the Union with a purpose firm and true as the needle to the thread.

But the conflict's long since over, and why march they to-day? To honor those who've fallen and a debt of love to pay? It matters little now whether the dead wore blue or gray—Flowers are strewn on both alike on Decoration Day.

And thus may I continue while suns shall set, For we've long since forgotten the Gray, but to those who've fallen and a debt of love to pay? Those who stood beside us in many a hard-fought field.

'Till at last to gain death's message they were compelled to yield. So 'twas made toward none, and with charity for all. The hardships we have suffered we can live blessed to call.

The march, the camp, the battle—methods I see them all. But there are those who ponder on their dead. No! we're not only cherished for comrades brave who fell. Regrets for great leaders and our fallen "Boys in Blue."

Who rallied round the Standard to the Union men and set. Regrets for all who wore the Blue, and pity for the few who wore the Gray. It is all that animates our hearts on Decoration Day.

Then honor our brave Veterans for they honor their dead. "What have they done for us?" methinks I hear it said. When duty called they answered "Aye," and answered every one. To pay our debt of inheritance bequeathed by Washington?

Our great and glorious Union they risked 'em lives to save. Gave manhood unto chattels and freedom unto slaves. Is honor then not due them for such noble work well done? "Republicans are not," but let not this be one. And give to the last great "Reveries" is sound of from the sky.

And we recall the "muster" by commands of the Most High, Mayno command then be "missing," but all in the crowns to be distributed on "That Decoration Day!"

PARIS.

Carroll E. McAllister cut off two fingers and badly cut another Saturday afternoon, on a grooving machine in the shop of Paris Hill Mill Co. He is fifteen years old and has neither home nor parents.

Hiram Jackson's boy who broke his collar bone last week, is doing well.

Rev. Mr. Perkins is convalescing. H.

OTISFIELD.

The school on Scribner Hill commenced Monday, June 4th.

We hear that Miss J. Arvesta Andrews, who has been in Boston a number of weeks past for her health is improving and will soon be able to return home. Her many friends will be glad to welcome her back.

We were glad to welcome Miss Ella Lovewell back to her old school on the Gore again this spring, but very sorry that she was obliged to leave so soon on account of sickness in her family. The school commenced again Monday, June 4th, Miss Meritt Starbuck of Norway, teacher, and we doubt not that it will be a successful term.

HARRISON.

Memorial Day was observed in Harrison by planting flags and placing floral decorations at the graves of deceased soldiers in the various cemeteries. This service was performed under the auspices of Harry Rust Post G. A. R. of Norway, the officers of which furnished the ex-soldiers of Harrison with flags to carry out the objects of the occasion in a fitting manner. To that organization the thanks of all friends of our deceased comrades are due for this token of liberal regard. Capt. Granville Fernald had general supervision of the services in town, and his personal direction at the old F. B. cemetery and at the Soldiers' Mills. Able assistance was rendered in other cemeteries by comrades Howard M. Thompson, John E. Woodsum, and others. At the village a public meeting was held in the Cong. Church after the decoration service, at which prayer was offered by Dea. A. P. Whitney, and appropriate addresses were made by Hon. C. A. Chaplin and Dea. Whitney. Six graves were decorated in the village cemetery. At old F. B. cemetery six graves were decorated with flags and floral offerings. Quite a number assembled to participate. Misses Ida Thompson and Miss Virginia Weston, appropriate poetical selections. At Bolster's Mills the teacher, Miss Emma Proctor, and her pupils were found assembled at the school house, and marched in procession to the cemetery, where eight graves were decorated with flags and beautiful bouquets. At the entrance to the cemetery a handsome, large, silken banner was floating, crowned by a splendid floral wreath. This was loaned by Miss E. Fernald and erected by her order. At the close of the ceremony, the company assembled in the space near the gate and Misses Geneva Dorman, Virgie Weston, Mabel Dorman and Gertrude Gifford each read beautiful memorial poems, after which all joined in singing. Mrs. Walker, Jr., Leader Harmon, Spofford Ingalls. 1861, Edward Gilkey.

Bolster's Mills.—1876, Jumper, Capt. John Brackett. 1812, James Brackett, John Small. 1861, Enoch G. Warren, Wesley Haskell, Silas Siles, Stephen Stiles.

Burnham Hill.—1861, Charles Bucknell, Washburn Bucknell.

Woodsum Family Cemetery.—1861, Silas Woodsum.

South Harrison.—1812, Col. Amos Thomas.

Near Senter School House.—William Carley.

Two graves of Revolutionary soldiers and two or three of the War of 1812 were inadvertently omitted for want of reasonable notice and accurate information.

Mr. Ricker.—Having a pleasure in the house, the house is for sale. The boiler and engine is from the shop of Wilkinson & Co., Boston. Mr. Ricker will accept of the house on the arrival here. It is to go into Long Lake and is for sale pleasure excursions over all the Sebago waters.

A new street is about to be laid out in the village over land purchased from Mrs. Mary Hamlin by Reuben Hobbs. This will open up a number of very fine building lots. Mr. Hobbs intends to improve one for building a house, and one or two other lots are engaged for building on the coming season is reported.

Mr. William H. Briggs, of the late firm of Briggs Bros., Confectioners, Portland, has bought the farm known as the Den Walker place, for several years past the residence of Granville Fernald, and is repairing and repainting to some extent. Mr. B.'s family will remove from Portland the first of July and occupy their new home. Mr. Fernald's family will not remove from town.

The ceiling in the vestibule of Hon. Philander Tolman's mansion fell the other day and the room will have to be re-plastered. Some other rooms will also need repairing. Poor heat in the mortars is supposed to be the cause of the defective plastering. The rooms were last summer frescoed by J. Mead & Son a few years ago.

Nearly 100 elm, maple and other ornamental trees were planted in the village this spring and are looking well.

A party of North Bridgton students excursioned on foot to Brunswick last week to attend "commencement," returning in the same manner. Among them was Fairfield Whitney, son of E. K. Whitney.

To Mrs. M. J. Halsey and Miss Annie Halsey, teachers of the village school, Miss Lucy Fernald, of the Cummings district and Miss Emma Proctor, Bolster's Mills, with the scholars of each district, many thanks are due from the friends of deceased soldiers for the interest they each and all manifested, and for important services in preparing abundance of beautiful bouquets and wreaths for decoration services on Memorial Day.

NORTH NEWRY.

Mrs. Maria Sargent, an old lady 84 years old, fell down through (where there had been a chimney taken down) from the attic floor to the ground below, a distance of 15 feet, breaking one leg and badly bruised and injured her internally. Owing to her great age she is not expected to recover.

Grass never looked better for this season of the year. Crops over upon it are looking finely with the prospect of a good harvest.

ALBANY.

Miss Roxie Cummings goes this week to Old Orchard to spend a few weeks. She thinks of taking her sister Anna with her, who is quite out of health.

Mr. Woodbury, principal of the Eastern Normal School, and his family, are visiting friends in Albany.

Mr. George Clark, who works in Fairbanks' scythe factory at St. John's, Vt., is at home for a little season of rest.

Mr. Austin Grover is in very poor health.

Our roads are badly washed by the heavy showers of late.

Planning and sheep shearing are at a "stand still."

Greenwood.

Millard Emmons cut his foot quite badly last Saturday, while at work cutting fence stuff. He was nearly half a mile away from home and no one with him and he had a hard time to reach home. He carried his leg before the woods. Not could truck him as well as you could a butchered hog. He fainted as soon as he got into the house. Fortunately for him a physician was passing at the time and called in and dressed the wound. It is now doing nicely.

We learn that James Crockett of Norway has put into E. O. K. Waterhouse's pasture in this town, a nice Dutch bull. Greenwood folks will do well to patronize him, as he is worth going a long way to see.

I see by your paper that Wm. C. Hobbs of Norway, had quite a gathering at his house, consisting of his Sabbath school class. I dare say they had a nice treat.

Mrs. Amelia Richardson, a lady 83 years old, is quite smart for one of her age. She walked from her home to the town farm and back one day last week, a distance of nearly 3 miles.

Frank Martin who has been at work for Ekl. Benson at North Paris, is obliged to return home on account of ill health.

Eld. Benson is to preach here once a month this season.

Little Martha Emmons, the 6 years old daughter of Israel Emmons, is an uncommonly smart scholar for her age.

Dennis Herrick was badly hurt while plowing by the oxen getting frightened and running over him.

South Waterford.

Mrs. J. C. Pike, accompanied by Mrs. Alvin Pike of Sweden, was starting with their team to visit her daughter, Mrs. No. Bridgton, this morning (Tuesday) a little before 9 o'clock, when, as soon as they were fairly started in the road the horse began to run, evidently frightened at something, and as they were at the top of a long hill he soon became unmanageable and having run forty or fifty rods threw both ladies out into the ditch. The fall was witnessed by a neighbor, Mr. Jonathan Howe, and the aid of friend Mrs. Howe and the hired man, Mr. York, were soon at the place of disaster to witness a sad plight. Both women were apparently dead, but with wonderful courage Mr. H. obtained water from the ditch, filled by yesterday's shower, and washed the blood from Mrs. J. C. Pike's face and soon had her upon her feet. Presently Mr. Howe came with another team and conveyed them both back to their home, and at once went for Dr. Wilson of this town. Fortunately Dr. Wilson of Bridgton came along and was called in and took charge and dressed the wounds, upon the head of Mrs. C. Pike sewing up a large skin gash, and found no bones were broken in either, but Mrs. Alvin Pike was found to be badly injured in the chest so as to be unable to get down. Mrs. J. C. is now in a precarious condition, and both he and Dr. Wilson are busy with her, doing all in their power to relieve the sufferer. Dr. Wilson's fears are grave, and says he considers the chances more than even against the life of the ladies. Mrs. J. C. is a lady between 50 and 60 years of age, and quite heavy, while the other is considerably younger and lighter. They are among the best and most respected citizens of their respective towns. Great anxiety is felt on the part of all for them. The Dr. says that the elder lady's case will be very critical if she lives for the next 48 hours. We learn that Mr. Alvin Pike will remove his wife to her home to-day.

Cobb & Haggard have sold their place to Mr. Daniel Leach, of this town. The consideration is not made known to the public as yet. Mr. L. will take possession soon.

NORTH RUMFORD.

The frequent showers and warm weather are helping the crops along wonderfully, and we see no reason why we should not have an abundant hay crop.

Chas. Kimball, senior, has raised his house one story, and when finished will be as pretty and pleasant as any house on the Point.

The mosquito is here among us, and he brought along his friend the beetle. The air is filled with them at night, and their flying against the windows sounds like hail.

The four horse stage coach from Bryans Pond to Andover goes up every evening loaded with fishermen bound for the lakes.

The potato beetles have come and are at work on the early potatoes. Nothing better for them than Paris green. The cuckoo is singing merrily.

We have noticed a number of tent caterpillars this year. We trust they are not planning to make another raid on us.

Help is scarce and wages high. Common farm help got from $20 to $25 per month.

G. S. Silver is quite ill with lung trouble.

Boys don't try and run your bicycle through the sand, because it won't go but you are liable to.

The farmers are planting a few Lima beans for Mr. Wolcott's dining table. He pays $2 per bushel for the shelled beans and 2 cents per can for sweet corn.

One of the school girls the other day stole a clover root with several four, five and six leaf clover upon it.

Try the Advertiser three months, and if you like all the home and country news and other instructive and interesting reading, you won't stop it.

NORWAY LAKE.

A bay horse, harness and rubber coat was stolen from Benj. Tucker's stable on Tuesday night.

C. W. Partridge with a small force of help is doing some extra good jobs on the highway. He is a highway surveyor, Mr. Editor, of which it is no unusual sight to see him taking the hardest place among his men, and instead of "large drops of sweat standing on his brow," it is pouring out all over him.

James Smith has been shingling his shoe shop and stable at the Lake. Now the great bull frogs put in their choruses.

Sweden.

A part of our schools are now in session, while others have been postponed on account of the prevalence of the measles.
